33 42-28.6-1.1. Certified officers pool and appointment to hearing panel.

34 (a) There is hereby established a certified officers pool to be maintained by the Rhode

1 Island police officers commission on standards and training which shall consist of the names of 2 qualified law enforcement officers submitted to the Rhode Island police officers commission on 3 standards and training selected pursuant to the provisions of subsection (c) of this section.

4 (b) The certified officers pool shall be the exclusive eligibility source of law enforcement 5 officers available for appointment to a hearing committee pursuant to the provisions of this chapter.

6 (c) Each law enforcement agency in the state shall submit at least one but not more than 7 three (3) names of qualified law enforcement officers to the Rhode Island police officers
8 commission on standards and training. Each chief or highest ranking officer in each law 9 enforcement agency shall consult with the labor union and/or bargaining agent for the respective 10 agency and mutually agree upon the officers selected for service in the certified officers pool. If 11 the chief or highest ranking officer of a law enforcement agency and the labor union or bargaining
12 agent are unable to reach an agreement on an officer for service within the certified officers pool, 13 then the officer being considered will be disqualified from service.

14 (d) Upon selection to the certified officers pool, a qualified law enforcement officer shall 15 remain a member of the pool until either disqualified or replaced.

16 (f) Any officer promoted to chief, colonel, deputy chief, or lieutenant colonel upon 17 termination or retirement from active service, or who otherwise fails to remain a qualified law 18 enforcement officer as defined in § 42-28.6-1 shall be disqualified from the certified officers pool.
19 Upon disqualification of an officer for appointment to the pool, or annually during the month of 21 replace the officer previously named to fill the position in the pool.

22 42-28.6-1.2. Training in police discipline.

23 (a) Prior to qualification and eligibility for appointment to the certified officers pool 24 established pursuant to the provisions of § 42-28.6-1.1, a law enforcement officer shall successfully 25 complete a course(s) of training in police discipline to be developed in accordance with the 26 provisions of this section.

27 (b) The course(s) of instruction and the training shall be approved by the Rhode Island

11 the chief justice and shall name an attorney in consultation with the court's committee on racial and 12 ethnic fairness. Compensation shall be made through the court appointed counsel procedure.

13 42-28.6-1.4. Conflict of interest.

15 agency may challenge the appointment of any member of the hearing committee for conflict of 16 interest or other substantive grounds justifying disqualification of an appointment. Any challenge 17 shall be heard and decided solely by the retired justice or judge appointed to serve as chairperson 18 unless the challenge is against the chairperson and then the challenge shall be heard by the chief 19 justice of the supreme court. If satisfactory evidence establishes conflict of interest or other 20 substantive grounds justifying disqualification of an appointed member, then a different member 21 shall be selected in the same manner as the disqualified appointment.

22 (b) Any individual selected as a member of the hearing committee shall immediately 23 disclose to the chairperson any circumstance likely to give rise to reasonable doubt as to the 24 member's ability to render an impartial decision including, but not limited to, bias, prejudice, or 25 financial or personal interest in the result or outcome of the hearing. The obligation to disclose shall
