ACT

Introduced By: Senators Paiva Weed, Goodwin, Miller, Lynch, and Ottiano

Date Introduced: February 25, 2015

Referred To: Senate Health & Human Services

It is enacted by the General Assembly as follows:

1 WHEREAS, A child's first experiences and relationships set the foundation for 2 development and learning that lead to success in school and in life. Voluntary, high-quality, 3 evidence-based home visiting programs help build parenting skills and address challenges faced 4 by many vulnerable families with young children.

5 WHEREAS, Children in at-risk families who participate in evidence-based home visiting 6 programs have improved language, cognitive, and social emotional development and are less
7 likely to experience child abuse and neglect. Families who participate are more likely to provide a 8 safe, enriching home environment and become more economically secure through education and 9 employment. Evidence-based home visiting programs can also improve maternal and child 10 health, reducing long-term health care costs.

11 WHEREAS, There is an existing infrastructure of home visiting programs in Rhode 12 Island serving families with young children that is supported through state and federal 13 investments. It is the goal of the general assembly to support a system of high-quality, evidence-14 based family home visiting programs; and 16 with young children who are at risk for poor outcomes.
