3 42-128-18. Homeless shelter standard.

4 (a) Findings. The general assembly finds and declares as follows:

5 (1) That all homeless persons have the right to homeless shelter services regardless of
6 political or religious beliefs, immigration status, former geographic location of residence, ethno-
7 cultural background, (dis)ability, gender identity, criminal background, and/or sexual orientation;

8 (2) That no shelter should charge a fee nor expect and/or require compensation from 9 clients/residents for any services rendered;

10 (3) That homeless shelters should provide an atmosphere of dignity and respect for all
11 shelter residents, and provide services in a non-judgmental manner;

12 (4) That shelter residents are capable of moving toward increasing levels of self-reliance
13 and self-determination. Shelter staff should work with residents to assist them in achieving their 14 goals;

15 (5) That homeless shelters should be sensitive to the ethno-specific and linguistic needs
16 of residents;

17 (6) That service providers need to accept gender identity as defined by the individual
18 rather than by the perception of staff and/or other residents;

- 1           (7) That protecting the privacy and confidentiality of shelter residents and their personal 2 information is of the utmost importance;
- 3           (8) That all people staying in homeless shelters should have access to safe, nutritious
4 food;
- 5           (9) That the health and safety of shelter residents, volunteers, and staff is of the highest 6 importance in each shelter;
- 7           (10) That issuing service restrictions in the shelter system must be done only as a last 8 resort and in the most serious cases;

10 service policies should not be based on substance use alone, except for those shelters operating on 11 an abstinence or recovery model basis;
- 12           (12) That shelter residents should be involved in service provision, program planning, 13 development and evaluation, and policy development;
- 14           (13) That homeless shelters that include children and youth should provide support and 15 activities and ensure that the school-related recreation and treatment needs of resident children
16 are met on site through community based services;
- 17           (14) That homeless shelters should afford an opportunity for children and youth with 18 developmental and/or physical disabilities to develop to their full potential within an environment
19 where they can interact and socialize with other children;
- 20           (15) That shelters are part of a larger network of homeless services and agencies and 21 collaboration within this network is important to ensure effective and coordinated services;
- 22           (16) That notification of shelter closure (either emergency or permanent shelter) should 23 be done as soon as the provider is aware of the potential closure and posted in a common area.
24 The provider should notify their residents, and the office of housing and community development
25 within the division of planning of the department of administration; and
- 26           (17) That all shelters should utilize the Rhode Island homeless information management
27 system (HMIS) database, and make entries in a timely manner.
- 28           (b) To further the purpose of this section, the chair of the Rhode Island housing resources
