Date Introduced: January 17, 2019

1 SECTION 1. Title 5 of the General Laws entitled "BUSINESSES AND PROFESSIONS"
2 is hereby amended by adding thereto the following chapter:

3 CHAPTER 89

4 TRANSPARENCY AND SUSTAINABILITY STANDARDS FOR RHODE ISLAND

5 BUSINESSES ACT

6 5-89-1. Purpose.

7 The purpose of this chapter is to support Rhode Island business entities in their global
8 sustainability efforts by providing this enabling legislation that permits a Rhode Island entity to 9 signal its commitment to global sustainability. This chapter does not purport to prescribe which 10 sustainability standards an entity chooses to adopt. Thus, a Rhode Island entity is free to choose
11 standards promulgated or developed by any entity.

12 5-89-2. Legislative findings.

13 The legislature finds that:

14 (1) The state of Rhode Island is committed to initiatives designed to support
15 sustainability practices by providing a platform for manufacturers and businesses to demonstrate 16 their corporate commitment to social responsibility and sustainability.

17 (2) In recognition of the increasing interest from investors, customers and employees for 18 greater transparency in sustainability practices, this legislation provides Rhode Island businesses
19 a means to demonstrate to their customers, investors, and employees that they are committed to

1 sustainability that embodies business practices and systems that are designed to foster innovation
2 and long-term profits as well as environmental and societal benefits.

3 (3) Rhode Island's program shall be implemented by way of voluntary enabling 4 legislation and applies only to those who seek to become certified as reporting entities. There is
5 no single blueprint for best practices in sustainability among or within industries, and this
6 legislation shall allow businesses to craft a sustainability blueprint that meets their specific needs
