STATE OF RHODE ISLAND

IN GENERAL ASSEMBLY

JANUARY SESSION, A.D. 2025

HOUSE RESOLUTION

CELEBRATING “NATIONAL WOMEN PHYSICIANS DAY” ON FEBRUARY 3, 2025, IN THE STATE OF RHODE ISLAND

Introduced By: Representatives Diaz, Shekarchi, Blazejewski, Chippendale, Hull, J.
Lombardi, Felix, Morales, Slater, and Stewart

Date Introduced: February 06, 2025

Referred To: House read and passed

1           WHEREAS, National Women Physicians Day commemorates the birthday of Dr.
2 Elizabeth Blackwell, who, in 1849, became the first woman to receive a medical degree in the 3 United States; and

4           WHEREAS, Dr. Blackwell championed the participation of women in the medical field
5 and ultimately opened her own medical college for women, the Women's Medical College in 6 New York City. In addition, during the Civil War, she and her sisters worked closely with 7 Florence Nightingale, training nurses for Union Hospitals, to provide care for the sick and 8 wounded; and

9           WHEREAS, National Women Physicians Day honors the pioneering achievements and 10 ongoing contributions of all female physicians in the field of health care, including the notable 11 accomplishments of Dr. Velma Scantlebury-White, who was the first Black woman transplant
12 surgeon in the United States and who, over her 40-year career, performed an estimated 2,000 13 organ transplants; and

14           WHEREAS, Dr. Velma Scantlebury-White is no stranger to overcoming challenges. She 15 grew up in Barbados, and at the age of 15, immigrated to Brooklyn, New York, with her family.
16 Pursuing her dream of becoming a physician, she eventually earned her medical degree from 17 Columbia University, and eight years later, earned her Doctor of Surgery from Pitt School of 18 Medicine, a first in the country; and

19           WHEREAS, Dr. Velma Scantlebury-White is recognized as one of the top doctors in the

1 United States and is passionate and dedicated to educating communities of color about the need 2 for more organ donors and the rising number of patients in need of transplantation; and

3 WHEREAS, Since 1849, women physicians have made remarkable strides in health care, 4 and as of May 2024, there were 424,536 female physicians in the United States; and

5 WHEREAS, In addition, over the course of the last four years, women have made up the 6 majority of medical school applicants, matriculants, and enrollees; however, a 2021 report from 7 the Rand Corporation found that female physicians earn $2 million less than men over the course 8 of their career; and

9 WHEREAS, Women physicians bring unique perspectives to patient care, and serve as 10 leaders, educators, researchers and mentors to future generations; and

11 WHEREAS, National Women Physicians Day honors the achievements of female 12 physicians and is a time to not only recognize the contributions of female physicians to 13 healthcare, but to also inspire future generations of female physicians, and to advocate for equal 14 pay and leadership opportunities; now, therefore be it

15 RESOLVED, That this House of Representatives of the State of Rhode Island hereby 16 celebrates February 3, 2025, as “National Women Physicians Day”; and be it further

17 RESOLVED, That the Secretary of State be and hereby is authorized and directed to 18 transmit a duly certified copy of this resolution to Mariah Stump, MD, MPH, President of the 19 Board of Directors, Rhode Island Medical Women’s Association (RIMWA).
