19 34-18-7.1. Applicability to just cause evictions.

20 This section shall apply to all housing accommodations subject to just cause evictions

21 except:

22 (1) Owner-occupied premises with fewer than four (4) units;

23 (2) Premises sublet, or otherwise, where the sublessor seeks, in good faith, to recover

24 possession of such housing accommodation for their own personal use and occupancy;

25 (3) Premises, the possession, use or occupancy of which, is solely incidental to employment

26 and such employment is being lawfully terminated; and

27 (4) Premises otherwise subject to regulation of rents or evictions pursuant to state or federal

28 law to the extent that such state or federal law requires "good cause" for termination or non-renewal

29 of such tenancies.

30 34-18-38.3. Necessity for just cause - Removal of tenants.

31 (a) No landlord shall, by action to evict or to recover possession, by exclusion from

32 possession, by failure to renew any lease, or otherwise, remove any tenant from housing

33 accommodations covered by chapter 18 of title 34, except for good cause as set forth in subsection

34 (b) of this section.

1           (b)(1) No landlord shall remove a tenant from any housing accommodation, or attempt 2 such removal or exclusion from possession, notwithstanding that the tenant has no written lease or 3 that the lease or other rental agreement has expired or otherwise terminated, except upon order of 4 a court of competent jurisdiction entered in an appropriate judicial action or proceeding in which 5 the petitioner or plaintiff has established one of the following grounds as good cause for removal 6 or eviction:

7           (i) The tenant has failed to pay rent due and owing; provided, however, that the rent due
8 and owing, or any part thereof, did not result from a rent increase which is unreasonable or imposed
9 for the purpose of circumventing the intent of this section. In determining whether all or part of the 10 rent due and owing is the result of an unreasonable rent increase, it shall be a rebuttable presumption 11 that the rent for a dwelling not protected by rent regulation is unreasonable if said rent has been 12 increased in any calendar year by a percentage exceeding either four percent (4%) or one and one-13 half (1½) times the annual percentage change in the consumer price index for the region in which 14 the housing accommodation is located, as established the August preceding the calendar year in 15 question, whichever is greater;

16           (ii) The tenant is violating a substantial obligation of the tenancy, other than the obligation
17 to surrender possession, and has failed to cure such violation after written notice that the violation
18 cease within ten (10) days of receipt of such written notice; provided, however, that the obligation 19 of tenancy for which violation is claimed was not imposed for the purpose of circumventing the 20 intent of this section;

21           (iii) The tenant is committing or permitting a nuisance in such housing accommodation, or 22 is maliciously or by reason of negligence damaging the housing accommodation; or the tenant's 23 conduct is such as to interfere with the comfort of the landlord or other tenants or occupants of the 24 same or adjacent buildings or structures;

25           (iv) Occupancy of the housing accommodation by the tenant is in violation of or causes a 26 violation of law and the landlord is subject to civil or criminal penalties therefor; provided,
27 however, that an agency of the state or municipality having jurisdiction has issued an order 28 requiring the tenant to vacate the housing accommodation. No tenant shall be removed from 29 possession of a housing accommodation on such ground unless the court finds that the cure of the 30 violation of law requires the removal of the tenant and that the landlord did not, through neglect or 31 deliberate action or failure to act, create the condition necessitating the vacate order. In instances 32 where the landlord does not undertake to cure conditions of the housing accommodation causing 33 such violation of the law, the tenant shall have the right to pay or secure payment in a manner 34 satisfactory to the court, to cure such violation; provided that, any tenant expenditures shall be

1 applied against rent to which the landlord is entitled. In instances where removal of a tenant is 2 absolutely essential to the tenant's health and safety, the removal of the tenant shall be without 3 prejudice to any leasehold interest or other right of occupancy the tenant may have and the tenant 4 shall be entitled to resume possession at such time as the dangerous conditions have been removed.
5 Nothing herein shall abrogate or otherwise limit the right of a tenant to bring an action for monetary 6 damages against the landlord to compel compliance by the landlord with all applicable state or 7 municipal laws or housing codes;

8 (v) The tenant is using or permitting the housing accommodation to be used for an illegal 9 purpose;

10 (vi) The tenant has unreasonably refused the landlord access to the housing accommodation 11 for the purpose of making necessary repairs or improvements required by law or for the purpose of 12 showing the housing accommodation to a prospective purchaser, mortgagee or other person having 13 a legitimate interest when the landlord has provided the required forty-eight (48) hours notice for 14 non-emergency repairs therein;

15 (vii) The landlord seeks in good faith to recover possession of a housing accommodation
16 located in a building containing fewer than twelve (12) units because of immediate and compelling 17 necessity for the landlord's own personal use and occupancy as the landlord's principal residence,
18 or the personal use and occupancy as principal residence of the landlord's spouse, parent, child, 19 stepchild, father-in-law or mother-in-law, when no other suitable housing accommodation in such 20 building is available. This subsection shall permit recovery of only one housing accommodation
21 and shall not apply to a housing accommodation occupied by a tenant who is sixty-two (62) years 22 of age or older or who is a disabled person; or

23 (viii) The landlord seeks in good faith to recover possession of any or all housing 24 accommodations located in a building with less than five (5) units to personally occupy such 25 housing accommodations as the landlord's principal residence.

26 (2) A tenant required to surrender a housing accommodation by virtue of the operation of 27 subsections (b)(1)(vii) or (b)(1)(viii) of this section shall have a cause of action in any court of 28 competent jurisdiction for damages, declaratory, and injunctive relief against a landlord or 29 purchaser of the premises who makes a fraudulent statement regarding a proposed use of the 30 housing accommodation. In any action or proceeding brought pursuant to this provision, a 31 prevailing tenant shall be entitled to recovery of actual damages, and reasonable attorneys' fees.

32 (3) Nothing in this section shall abrogate or limit the tenant's right to permanently stay the 33 issuance or execution of a warrant or eviction in a summary proceeding, whether characterized as 34 a nonpayment, objectionable tenancy, or holdover proceeding, the underlying basis of which is the

1    nonpayment of rent, as long as the tenant complies with the procedural requirements of this chapter.

2           34-18-38.4. Waiver of rights void.

3           Any agreement by a tenant heretofore or hereinafter entered into in a written lease or other
4    rental agreement waiving or modifying the tenant's rights as set forth in § 34-18-38.3 shall be void
5    as contrary to public policy.

6           34-18-54.1. Preservation of existing requirements of law.

7           No action shall be maintainable and no judgment of possession shall be entered for housing
8    accommodations pursuant § 34-18-38.3 unless the landlord has complied with any and all
9    applicable laws governing such action or proceeding and has complied with any and all applicable
10   laws governing notice to tenants, including, without limitation, the manner and the time of service 11   of such notice and the contents of such notice.

12           SECTION 3. This act shall take effect upon passage.
